Mr Pattison-

I am still waiting for that retraction. You're late. As for Brandia being my helper; editing your Senior Editor's intentionally false publication or exposing corruption is everyones' helper.

You might do what the Seattle Times had to do when Chris Schwartzen's friend Emily Heftner screwed up in Feb 2012- bring in the AP to double your article. It was my pleasure making an ass out of Emily, and it was even more amusing watching as the Times had to retract its article four times because they got it wrong. We however got it right as we always do.

Making a false statement You know to be false as part of a favor to pedophiles and a person convicted of bank fraud leaves me thinking I'm onto something much much larger and it involves a reporter from the Herald's involvement in the Enterprise. Once the case gets back from the 9th Circuit we'll explore that issue....

By the way, any reason why The Herald never reported on Pennington's criminal assault of three women or the fact that he's a prime suspect in the rape of a five year old child? Love to have comment

Anne

I am no one's "helper" and your attempt to run to the AP to tell on me was a true indication of just how little integrity you and your staff have. I license my content with ad support through ICopyright but nice try. Oh but thank you for the introduction to Mr Pollock, he is a very nice man, maybe he can teach you something about "Journalism" Brandia

Ms. Block,

You appear to be copying me on emails that you are sending to your helper at SnoCoReporter.com. I do not wish to receive these. Please avoid practice this going forward.

Thanks!

Mr. Pattison –

This letter is to inform the Herald that it will be sued in US Federal Court for publishing false articles.

You are hereby notified to preserve all records that relate to today's story that relates to Anne Block, John Pennington, and Crystal Hill (nee Berg) Pennington, and any person Snohomish County and/or the WSBA in native format with metadata. See O'Neil v. Shoreline.

Ms. Block,

The Daily Herald is committed to publishing corrections whenever we determine a news report has been inaccurate.

The story that you have contacted me about seems to be substantiated by information posted by the Washington State Bar Association:

https://www.mywsba.org/LawyerDirectory/LawyerProfile.aspx?Usr_ID=37640

Anne K Block

WSBA Number: 37640
Admit Date: 07/10/2006
Member Status: Suspended
Reason for Suspension: MCLE Non Compliance, No Insurance Form, No Trust Account Form, Non Payment of fees
Public/Mailing Address: 313 Shelby St
Gold Bar, WA 98251-9234
United States

In your demand to the Daily Herald, you assert that your true status is "resigned" not suspended. In checking on this, however, I have reviewed the Washington State Bar Association Office of Disciplinary Counsel analysis letter, which asserts:

"Block does not have authority to unilaterally bind disciplinary counsel or suspend a disciplinary investigation merely by filing a "notice of unavailability." See In re Disciplinary Proceeding Against King (King I), 168 Wn.2d 888, 906,232 P.3d 1095 (2010)."

In light of this supporting material, we will not be printing the retraction you have requested.

Sincerely,

Neal Pattison

Scott-

I am requesting an immediate "retraction. You incorrectly reported that the Bar "suspended" my license as a result of an ongoing disciplinary investigation. This is simply NOT true. I resigned and the Bar has not taken any disciplinary action against me and O'Dell is now under fraud investigation with the feds as a result Our investigation.

Please see www. WSBA.com lookup attorney directory.

I resigned from the WSBA instead of revealing my sources as a news reporter. Issues the Bar has no jurisdiction over.

The Herald has 24 hours to publish a retraction before I file suit.

Brandia have fun with the Herald.
